

Dictator Peron Flees Arrest

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—The ballad tells us that Davy Crockett killed a bear at the age of three.

The ballad isn't specific and our Crockett research hasn't been energetic enough to find out how he accomplished it. Presumably, though, he primed a muzzle-loader and shot the bear between the eyes.

Of course, Davy was born and reared in the age of bears, we mean real bears, not zoo bears. Our country abounded in bears and it was to a man's best advantage to learn to shoot bears for (1) bear meat and (2) his own survival.

So if Davy, at three, shot a bear, it is logical to assume that his mother and father gave him some crib lessons in the art of musketry for several very good reasons.

Now, approximately 170 years post-Crockett, we find children shooting at imaginary bears because it's hard to find a bear any more short of Brookfield and the Alaskan peninsula. In fact it's difficult for a youngster, or anyone, to find an upstanding specimen of anything resembling the wildlife of Davy's time. Indians are scarce, too.

In fact in the deer country, it is a brutal fact that the seasonal bag of human beings compares respectably with the numbers of deer antlers racked up on the mantles in sundry lodges.

It's ironic, but that's because we're civilized and the wild frontier is disappearing. Man simply outnumbers the wild game, particularly in the Midwest.

A 71-year-old Dixon man was shot in the leg more than two weeks ago while walking along the Rock River's shore. The subsequent investigation has turned up four or five individuals who could have been responsible for the accidental shooting. None was held to blame because it couldn't be proved who of the four or five fired the shot or from what direction the shot was fired. The incident has passed with the injured man due to leave the hospital shortly.

It is to be assumed that there were no infractions of laws on the use of firearms. At least there have been no arrests.

So, perhaps, this discourse should be directed to the parents of those individuals who were emulating the celebrated Davy, or to the adults who practice their marksmanship along our Rock River shores.

Parents of juveniles who buy firearms for their children and who apparently condone the use of such in areas abounded by turtles, beer bottles, river front homes, and much-traveled highways, should begin their child's education early—like Davy's parents. Only they should stress that the world today is infested with human beings and the forest is not primeval.

Rifles of modern make are remarkable for their potency and accuracy. A rifle's deadliness to mankind is compounded when it is fired over water.

The Ballad of Davy Crockett makes for fine listening on the juke boxes but the facts related therein are not for our generation.

City Council to Vote on One-Way Street Program

The Dixon city council is expected to vote tonight on a proposed ordinance for a limited one-way street plan for downtown Dixon. If passed, the plan would be given a 30-day trial test.

The plan as recommended by Police Commissioner Paul Pettis and originated by Capt. Jack Van Meter in The Evening Telegraph's "Capt. Jack" column, is for east-bound traffic on First Street and westbound traffic on Second Street between Madison and Galena avenues.

The plan was heavily endorsed by motorists during a recent "straw vote" taken at the police department.

Murdered Boy's Mother Arrives in Courtroom

Jury Incomplete for Trial Of Whites in Mississippi

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Bradley, 44, of Chicago arrived in the Sumner courthouse this morning to testify in the trial of two white men charged with murdering her Negro son.

As she sat down, 270-pound Sheriff H. C. Strider pushed his way through the crowd and handed her a subpoena as a witness.

Defense sources said attorneys for Roy Bryant, 24, and his 36-year-old half-brothers, J. W. Milam, expect to try to establish that Mrs. Bryant was assaulted by the victim, Emmett Louis Till, while he was alone with her Aug. 24.

Only Legal Sense
The word was used in the legal sense which implies any untoward incident and did not imply actual physical attack or rape, the source said.

There had been speculation Mrs. Bradley would arrive today with a police guard. She left Chicago by plane Monday night.

"I would feel better with one," she said, although she arrived in the courtroom unguarded. She added no one had molested her in any way in the South.

Wearing a dark grey suit with white collar and a black bow, Mrs. Bradley walked into the courtroom quietly with several Negro men. She sat down at a table with Negro reporters and photographers.

Gets 2,000 Letters
A small heat woman, somewhat on the plump side, Mrs. Bradley told newsmen quietly that among 2,000 letters she has received since her son was slain only a very few were "nasty and threatening."

While spectators watched silently as Mrs. Bradley sat down, Sheriff Strider, after pushing his way through the crowd, handed her the subpoena, saying, "You are now in the state of Mississippi. You will come under all rules of the State of Mississippi."

State and defense attorneys, operating in the shirt-sleeve heat of a crowded courtroom, agreed Monday on 10 jurors for the all-male, all-white jury.

Through the tedium of juror questioning, the principals in this publicized case sat quietly, frequently abandoning their silent contemplation of the steamy proceedings to tend their 2-year-old sons, whom they held on their laps for a time. Their wives were also in the courtroom.

The two men are charged with killing Emmett Louis Till, who allegedly whistled at Mrs. Bryant after offensive remarks.

Big Mystery
The big mystery is what happened between the time Till was taken from the home of his sharecropper uncle Mose Wright until the time the youth's body was found floating in the muddy Tallahatchie River a few miles to the north.

The state says Bryant and Milam bludgeoned Till, shot him to death and disposed of the body by weighting it and dropping it in the river. Bryant and Milam say they let the boy go unharmed.

One source close to the case said the state has no witnesses to actual events. Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham said he would not ask the death penalty "since a substantial part of the state's evidence is circumstantial."

Principal state's witness apparently is Wright, 64-year-old uncle who said three men took his nephew away under protest at 2:30 a. m. Aug. 28.

The body was found three days later.

No Dealings
Wright, a short, thin Negro who is proud he has never before had any dealings with the law, heard Till had made some remarks or wolf whistles at Mrs. Bryant, 21.

The incident allegedly occurred Aug. 24 in Bryant's country store in Money, a community near Greenwood in adjoining Leflore County.

The body itself offered still another thread in a bizarre pattern. Sheriff H. C. Strider has voiced some doubt as to identification of

Sterling, Rock Falls To End CDT

Area residents traveling between communities soon will have to make time adjustments if they are to arrive for appointments at the right time.

The Sterling and Rock Falls city councils Monday night voted to return to standard time Sunday. They rejected proposals to extend daylight saving time until the last Sunday in October.

The Sterling council also indicated it would make an effort to determine public opinion on "fast" time, and if it does not have enough support the city might remain on standard time next summer.

Polo also will return to standard time Sunday, but many other area cities will stay with daylight time for another month.

Dixon will have daylight time in October, as will Mt. Morris, Oregon, Ashton, Rochelle, Franklin Grove and Pawpaw in the immediate area.

Amboy's mayor, Dr. John P. Walsh, today said that city's council will hold a special meeting tonight to act on daylight time extension. He said that since Amboy is located between Dixon and Mendota, which also has extended daylight time, the tendency is to go along and extend it, too.

Other Northern Illinois cities to continue daylight time are Freeport, Rockford, DeKalb, Morris, Ottawa, Sycamore, LaSalle and Spring Valley.

Longer have been under study by the North Western for some time. Luxury services on the streamliners, he said, have resulted in losses which could not be cut under the arrangement with UP and SP. These, he said, included hauling tap cars across Iowa where no liquor could be served, and running cars on portions of the run when there was no real call for them.

For 75 Years
For three quarters of a century, the North Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific have cooperated to provide through service between Chicago and Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland. Trains are headed from Chicago over the North Western to its terminals at Omaha. There the Union Pacific takes over.

Ione Moving Seaward; Believe Danger Over

Observers Say Storm Still Danger

North Carolina Counts Five Dead; Damage in Millions

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A greatly reduced hurricane Ione—but with a potential for regaining damaging force—appeared to be moving out to sea northwest of Norfolk at midnight today.

Weather officials had not ruled out a direction change for the erratic dawdling storm that had smashed North Carolina a water blow and spared Virginia as it passed to the south of this port city. It could swing north and bring damaging rain and winds to the Northeast.

The Weather Bureau at 7 a. m. CST, said the hurricane had moved over the Atlantic out of range of shore based radar. But its position was estimated at about 90 miles northeast of Norfolk, with movement east northeast or northeast at about 10 or 12 miles per hour.

60-70 MPH Winds
Highest winds near the center were still near 60 or 70 miles per

North Carolina Towns Inundated By Ione's Rains

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Coastal North Carolina grimly counted at least five reported deaths and property damage of untold millions today from Ione, third and worst storm to hit the state this year.

The hurricane left several towns and cities partly or entirely under water. Power and communications lines were demolished, roads impassable, crop lands inundated, buildings were battered, washed and wrecked.

Four deaths were reported at New Bern, one of the hardest hit communities. Two were identified as Benny Sanders, 5-year-old Negro who drowned in a city street; and Fred Alfred, 50, of Cash Corner, also drowned. The others were not identified immediately.

The highway patrol at Fayetteville received a radio report that a dam broke at Elizabethtown early today, resulting in the drowning of a white child. The dam was near Elizabethtown, about 40 miles southeast of Fayetteville. Water from Ione's heavy rains swept down upon the house in which the child lived.

hour, and the area of gale winds extended for 200 miles in the eastern semicircle.

Skies were clearing rapidly at Richmond by 7 a. m. and only a drizzle at Norfolk added to the 3.14 inches of rain that fell in the past 24 hours. Richmond had 3.83 inches.

North Carolina was hit with heavy rains and most of the damage there appeared to be from high water according to early reports, though a complete picture was being delayed by disrupted communications.

The Weather Bureau said the position and movement of the storm suggested it may pass well to the south of New England, but it pointed out the data was meager and the storm had shown an erratic pattern.

It warned that interests in the

Lee Grand Jury Indicts Two No True Bills Voted In State School Case

The Lee county grand jury Monday indicted two Dixon area youths on separate criminal counts but returned no true bills in the matter of the two elderly sisters sofoled with grand theft.

Indicted were Phillip Sofolo, 20, Dixon, and Charles E. Schick, 20, Rock Falls. Sofolo is charged with reckless homicide and Schick is charged with larceny.

The youths are tentatively scheduled to be arraigned early next week in circuit court—pending the return of Judge Robert Bracken from judicial duties in Carroll county.

The two sisters, Mrs. Effie L. Vinyard, 68, and Miss Flora M. Graves, 57, escaped indictment but still face prosecution for their alleged theft of more than $3,000 worth of Dixon State School property.

"Advise and Instruct"
Along with the no true bills, the grand jury "advised and instructed" State's Atty. James Bales to take any further action in the matter that he deems necessary.

Bales said today that further action will be taken although he was yet uncertain what his next step would be.

He stressed, however, that there will be no delay in bringing the

San Francisco Police Hunt Abductor of Infant Boy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Nearly 300 policemen searched house by house through a 66-block area today for a doctor's 3-day-old son who was kidnapped from Mt. Zion hospital.

The child, Robert J. Marcus, is the healthy 6-pound, 6½-ounce son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus of suburban Daly City.

He was taken from the glass-enclosed nursery Monday afternoon, presumably by an unidentified blonde who had been questioned by Leticia Clement, 21, a student nurse.

Witnessed Kidnap
Eleanor Lorenz, a nursing supervisor, saw a blonde woman walking from the hospital shortly afterward with a baby.

Inspector George Dyer described the woman as a "white female American about 31 years of age, between 5 feet 5 and 5 feet 7 tall, weighing between 150 and 170 pounds."

He said she was large busted, clear skinned and with long blonde hair and gave the general impression of "untidiness."

Dr. Marcus, a staff physician at the hospital, pleaded in a radio broadcast addressed to the kidnaper: "I realize that you probably

Escapes to Paraguayan Naval Ship

Assured Asylum By Ambassador; Rebels Vow Pursuit

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The fallen dictator, Juan D. Peron, boarded a Paraguayan gunboat here today and received assurances of protection. But the rebels whose revolt ousted Peron demanded that the boat be intercepted en route to Paraguay and the ex-president arrested.

Peron spent Monday night in his presidential palace at Palermo while a group of friends and opponents debated his fate in a secret meeting.

There were various reports, apparently well founded, that Peron had slipped out of the country by air, heading for neighboring Uruguay.

Gets "Protection"

But this afternoon the Paraguayan ambassador to Argentina disclosed he had gone aboard the gunboat with Peron, and the ex-dictator had received assurances of "protection" from its commander.

The ambassador, Juan Chavez, said Peron in a daring maneuver slipped aboard the gunboat with his military aide, Maj. Ignacio Cialetta.

This was about 10 a. m. Soon after 1 p. m. the rebel radios came on the air, with directions to the insurgent navy telling its officers to intercept the Paraguayan gunboat.

The object obviously was to bring Peron back to face charges. The trip by gunboat to Asuncion, Paraguay, would take about five days.

The ambassador said he had informed the military junta, now in power in Argentina, that the form-

Youth Flunks Driver Exam; Arrested, Too!

A 16-year-old Dixon youth was arrested this morning following a collision with three parked cars that occurred while the youth was taking his state driver's license road test.

Officers William Boehme arrested Dave Bellini, 115 Noble Avenue, for careless driving.

The mishap occurred about 10:20 a. m. when Bellini attempted to turn west onto Third Street from Peoria Avenue, according to Boehme.

Bellini, who was accompanied by state driver's license examiner Orval Gearhart, reportedly made a wide turn and crashed into successive cars owned by E. C. Aagesen, Amboy; I. L. Bovey, Dixon; and J. L. Bruce, 1103 Fargo Ave., Dixon.

Bellini was driving an auto owned by Jane Coffey, Dixon. Her auto and the Aagesen vehicle were damaged considerably while the Bovey and Bruce cars received only minor damage.

Gearhart, who doubles in brass as a city commissioner, reported that the only injury was to the youth's pride.

Needless to say, Bellini did not receive a driver's license.

Dairy Show Will Begin October 8

CHICAGO—Purebred dairy cattle from many states and Canada have been listed for the third annual International Dairy Show, scheduled for the International Amphitheatre Oct. 8-15, the management reports.

The first entry consisted of a show herd of purebred milking Shorthorns from New York. They are coming from the Last Chance Ranch near Lake Placid.

Owners of the continent's finest dairy animals will compete for over $40,000 in cash prizes that will be offered in the competitions featuring six breeds—Ayrshires, Brown Swiss, Guernseys, Jerseys, Holsteins and Milking Shorthorns.

One of the feature attractions at this year's event is the International Golden Dairy Recipe Contest in which more than 5,000 women have submitted their favorite dairy recipes. The contest will be conducted by Ruth Fisher Holbrook, Chicago food consultant. She will conduct a twice daily food forum during the 8-day run of the show in a specially installed "Dream Kitchen."

Prizes valued at $25,000 will be awarded to winners in this event—the grand prize winner to receive an all-expense trip to Europe. Other winning entrants will receive refrigerators, washers, stoves and varied other useful household appliances.

Cowboys and cowgirls from all parts of the United States and Canada are making their entries to compete for the $20,000 that will be offered in cash awards in a series of dangerous events that will assure spectators thrills and spills at each performance.

It will be the third appearance in Chicago of a World's Championship Rodeo in conjunction with the International Dairy Show.

That Crazy Mixed-Up Hog Market

By L. H. SIMERL
University of Illinois

Some days it doesn't pay to get out of bed — everything we do seems to be wrong. Take the hog business, for example. Usually when we ship heavy hogs, we have to sell them at a big discount, and the market people tell us that the consumer wants cuts from a 200-pounder. So next time we ship some 200-pounders and find that they are paying top prices for 240- to 270-pound hogs. What goes, anyway?

Market prices sometimes look crazy to the casual observer. But usually they make good sense when we find out the reasons for them. Let's see if we can make some sense out of the hog market.

Most consumers prefer the pork cuts from hogs weighing around 200 to 220 pounds. Lighter hogs produce too many thin slabs of bacon and too many little pork chops. Heavier hogs are likely to have excessive amounts of fat. There is, however, a steady demand for a small number of heavy hogs all year round. Most of the time there are more than enough to fill orders for them, so they sell at a discount under the more popular weights.

Different Story
It is a different story in the late summer and early fall. Very few farmers then have heavy hogs for sale. They know that prices are likely to go down, so they sell their hogs as soon as they weigh 200-220 pounds. A lot of farmers even sell at much lighter weights—as low as 150 to 180 pounds. These light hogs sell at big discounts because they have poor cut-out values.

Meantime the demand for a small number of heavy hogs continues as usual, but there are not enough to fill the orders. The buyers who want these few heavy hogs gradually raise their bids or, more likely, they hold up the bids for the heavier butchers longer than their bids for the rapidly increasing supplies of lighter weights. By September or so, average prices for the few heavy hogs are slightly above the average for hogs weighing 200 to 220 pounds. Later in the fall farmers will send in many more heavy hogs, and they will again sell at a discount.

German Demand?
Some market men say that the demand for the heavier hogs comes from German families in certain areas. This may not be correct, but there is no doubt that there is a strong demand for a small number of heavy hogs at all times of the year.

Would it pay farmers to feed their hogs to 240 to 270 pounds? Possibly at other times of the year, but seldom in the summer or early fall. Prices often slide off rapidly during August and September. During these months a hog producer will usually be better off to sell as soon as his hogs weigh over 200 pounds. Heavier hogs may bring a little more money on the day he sells his 200-pounders, but usually by the time he could put another 40 to 70 pounds on them the prices for all weights would be substantially lower.

Most of the seasonal decline in hog prices this year may have come last summer. We now expect the seasonal low to come in November, at $14 to $15 for top hogs. But maybe this is one of those days when everything we do goes wrong.

University Warns of New Racket in Fertilizer Sales

URBANA—There's a new racket in the state — the misuse of the soil test, warns the University of Illinois.

The University advises farmers to be cautious when approached by salesmen selling cheap fertilizer. The cost is quoted substantially below local market or even wholesale prices. But there's a catch:

The only way you can get this fertilizer at the reduced price is to sign up to have your soils tested and then apply the fertilizer in accordance with their recommendations.

The University cautions you not to sign any soil testing service or fertilizer sales contract without first consulting your farm adviser to find out whether you are dealing with a well known firm or accredited Illinois soil testing laboratory.

As a general rule, soil testing laboratories and fertilizer companies don't require you to sign service or purchase contracts.

A soil test is worthless unless the test has been carefully calibrated in terms of crop response by carefully conducted field experiments. It is also worthless if the person making the lime or fertilizer recommendation does not correctly interpret the test values.

Thus soil testing can be used to sell farmers — especially those who are not familiar with interpreting soil tests — fertilizer that can't be economically used, and plant foods that University conducted experiments indicate aren't needed.

Soil testing laboratories in Illinois are accredited only by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices in Springfield. To be eligible for lime, phosphate and potash payments, you must submit proof of the need for these plant foods as indicated by soil tests made by an accredited Illinois soil testing laboratory.

To remain on the accredited list, a soil testing laboratory must submit monthly samples for checking by the University of Illinois. If the soil test values submitted for the sample do not continue to check with those secured at the University, the laboratory can be removed from the accredited list by the state ASC office.

Soil testing methods have been developed by state universities and promoted by the Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, bankers and numerous other reputable organizations and persons interested in the welfare of agriculture.

The confidence farmers have in soil testing is based on the results they have seen when lime and fertilizer have been applied according to soil tests. They should not be taken in by people who can ruin that confidence.

Membership Drive For Home Bureau Now in Progress

What is Home Bureau who is eligible to join this worthwhile organization and what are the benefits gained were but a few of the questions answered during the Lee County Home Bureau membership kick-off drive Monday afternoon. Vice chairmen and members of each of the 23 organized units in the county were invited to the meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium, Amboy, to gain added incentive for their drive which began yesterday and will close Sept. 30.

Mrs. Alvin Kehm, Lee County Home Bureau president, opened the kick-off meeting by wishing luck to all workers. Mrs. Charles McCarter, Harmon, county vice president in charge of the membership drive, introduced a panel who clarified the organization for the workers. Speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Howard McCullough, Ridott, northwest district director of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation. Mrs. McCullough, in an interesting manner described the workings of the IHB.

Appearing on the afternoon's panel were: Mesdames Ed Hoyle, county health chairman; and Fred Nicholson, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Kehm, Miss June Pligum, Lee County Home Adviser; Mrs. Harold Donnelly, secretary; Miss Catherine Hockman, Lee County assistant youth adviser and Mrs. Elmer Peters of the county membership committee.

Mrs. Peters described the many benefits and affiliations gained by being a member of the Home Bureau, professional organization for Homemakers. Miss Pligum told the relationship of the extension service and Home Bureau and Mrs. Nicholson listed what each member's $5.00 dues are used for. Of the dues, $4.55 remains in the county, the remaining 15 cents being sent to the Illinois Home Bureau Federation, of which each dues payer is a member.

Mrs. Kehm named the kind of memberships available in Home Bureau as active, bride's and associate. "To promote the development of Homemaking" was given as the object of Home Bureau, by Mrs. Donnelly Mrs. Hoyle listed the services and privileges gained by Home Bureau membership which includes the Blue Cross Insurance group plan.

The Home Bureau's responsibility to 4-H, its attitude and financial help, local and county, was the topic of Miss Hockman. Delicious refreshments were served later in the afternoon with Mrs. Robert Bland, county ways and means chairman in charge. The refreshments were planned by the county executive board.

Ends Sept. 30
"Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's Future" was the reminder given workers as they received their membership drive kits. This year's drive will close Sept. 30 with a report-back meeting and tea in Amboy.

A gain of 93 or more new members is the goal of the workers. As of Sept. 1 Lee County had a paid membership of 613.

Children Can Now Paint Own Toys

If some of your children's toys are in need of a coat of paint why not let the children help to make them more attractive?

Miss Millicent Martin, child development specialist at the University of Illinois, says you can't expect a perfect paint job from a four- or five-year-old, but you have to think about what he will learn from the experience.

First of all, he'll learn just what has to be done to make things attractive. He'll also learn just what is involved in painting and how paint is mixed. Then too, he will learn how to clean up brushes and himself.

Just be sure you put old clothes on him, and give him a place where you won't have to worry about the drips. Then give him his wagon, truck or dump truck, and see how he enjoys it.

Taking care of his toys may be more meaningful for him as a result of this experience.

Plaid Fabrics
Plaid fabrics are becoming very popular this fall. To look well in skirts, dresses, sports shirts, etc., it is well for the home sewer as well as the buyer of ready-made to study it a bit. Plaids that are woven always look better than plaids that are printed. This is due to manufacturing processes which simply cannot print plaid, checks and stripes true to the grain or "straight of the cloth."

When a garment is made of plaid it should have the plaids matched at the more conspicuous seam lines. This means up and down skirt seams as well as shoulder and side seams of blouse. Unmatched lines of plaid produce a most disturbing effect. When patch pockets are put on a plaid dress they should be matched in the plaid design or cut at right angles. If pocket is on a straight cut blouse for example, cut it on the bias. If whole blouse is cut on the bias then make the pocket on the straight of the plaid design.

Many plaids that you buy are unbalanced. Unbalanced means more care in getting the plaids to match. Unbalanced plaid does not repeat its design constantly in all directions. Balanced plaid does. Thus, many unbalanced plaids are best when cut out like pile fabrics. This means laying the pattern in the same direction and matching notches on the same horizontal and vertical stripes of the plaid.

Another factor that makes a plaid home-made dress turn out well is to make sure that the woven plaid you brought home is grainline straight. This can be done by pulling at other times the material needs to be dampened by approved methods. This lines up plaid design with same stripes on top of one another. Therefore when you cut out blouse fronts and backs, and the skirt fronts and backs—each piece will be sure to be exactly alike. This is a very important fact when working with plaid.

Last of all let's make this suggestion that plaids do not look well on all people. They denote orderliness, force activity and certain masculinity. Therefore, some women look better in plaids than others. Color and the size of the plaid also create many different effects.

Red China in New U. N. Bid

U. S. Claims It Has Votes to Block Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—As U. N. delegates gathered for the opening today of the 11th General Assembly, the United States marshaled support to knock down any fresh Soviet bid to seat Communist China.

The Red China issue, which comes up each year, was expected to get another test as soon as the acting president, J.M.H.A. Luns of the Netherlands, rapped the gavel to launch the new session.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. expressed confidence the United States had lined up enough votes to keep Red China out.

Diplomats anticipated that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, here for his first Assembly since 1946, would make the annual bid to unseat the Chinese Nationalists. There was speculation, however, that the Russians might leave the initiative up to some other power sympathetic to the Peiping regime.

See Test
An East-West test of strength was also being shaped up in the hot contest between the U.S.-backed Philippines and Soviet-supported Poland for a Security Council seat.

The Assembly will swing into its general policy debate as soon as it clears aside organizational matters—election of a president, seven committee chairmen and Assembly vice presidents—and adopts an agenda.

The presidential election was expected to be routine, with Chile's Jose Maza so far unopposed.

Because of the presence of the Big Four foreign ministers, interest centered on what the United States and Russia would have to say in the policy debate. Secretary of State Dulles will take the floor Thursday, Molotov the following day.

Molotov's decision to attend the Assembly gave rise to speculation Moscow plans to bring up important questions.

Boy's Death Still Mystery

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Authorities say their latest lead into the mysterious death of Peter Certik, 14, have led to a blank wall.

Stanley Christian, Lake County sheriff, said Monday a person whom he thought might shed some information on the boy's death was given two lie detector tests. Both tests, Christian said, "proved" the person's innocence. He declined to disclose the identity of the person.

The boy left home April 1 after telling his mother he was going to meet some chums. His body was found a week ago in a heavily wooded area near Libertyville, Ill., some five miles from his home.

An autopsy of the body failed to determine the cause of death.

Bank Robber Uses Fake Bomb, Nabbed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A machinist who alleged attempted to rob a bank because he wanted $50,000 for a rest was resting today — in jail.

Police said Francis McMullan, 40, walked into the bank Monday pulled a plunger from his briefcase and told Manager Craig Edwards: "I want $50,000 cash or I'll blow you and this whole place up."

Edwards said he followed McMullan to the vault. A few feet from the door the manager gave him a shove and slammed the grill door. It locked automatically.

Police said the briefcase contained only a hoax bomb. They withdrew McMullan from the vault and booked him on suspicion of bank robbery.

"I was tired of being poor," they quoted him, "and I thought if I had $50,000 I could get some rest."

Pastor Urges Shift Of Carthage to So. Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Rev. Amos G. Steinh of Milwaukee urged the Wisconsin conference of the United Lutheran Church's northwest synod Monday to support a campaign to relocate Carthage, Ill. College in southern Wisconsin "if at all possible."

The Rev. Steinh, president of the conference, made his appeal in his president's report to the conference meeting here.

He said the number of potential United Lutheran Church students in the state merits a college in southern Wisconsin. The Carthage college board is studying a proposal to relocate the school in northern Illinois.

Stengel Figures to Have Pennant by Friday

Unless Ione Washes Out Capital Set

Casey Hopes Nats Series Will Come Off as Scheduled

By the Associated Press
Unless hurricane Ione sends them sprawling, the New York Yankees figure they'll have the American league pennant in hand Friday at Boston.

Yet, it's possible the champion may not be decided until after Sunday's regular-season windup. All sorts of things can happen between now and Sunday, but basically, here's the situation:

1. Any combination of New York victories and Cleveland defeats totaling five gives the Yankees and manager Casey Stengel their sixth pennant in seven years.

2. The Indians, with the world on a string, just a week ago, must sweep their five remaining games and hope the Yanks lose three of their remaining seven to gain at most a tie for the title.

Could Win Wednesday
New York could clinch it as early as Wednesday night. To do it, the Yankees would have to sweep their three games at Washington while Cleveland drops a two-game set at Chicago.

The storm knocked out Monday night's game between the Yankees and Senators. Could be Ione will wash out the whole three-game series in Washington—and if so, the Yankees may have to return to Washington after Sunday's "finish" at Boston to play the trio, which loom importantly in the pennant issue.

Stengel, hoping the Washington series comes off on schedule, is aiming for a quick clinch to give his veterans a rest before the World Series opener against Brooklyn a week from Wednesday.

Whitely Ford (17-7) and Don Larsen (8-2) go against Washington in today's scheduled afternoon-night doubleheader.

The Senators will throw Bob Portfield (10-7) or Pete Ramos (5-9) and Maury McDermott (9-9). Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, forced to win 'em all, will decide on either Early Wynn (16-11) or Herb Score (15-10) against the White Sox's Billy Pierce (14-9) tonight.

Only two games were scheduled Monday. In the National, St. Louis overcame a 5-0 deficit to beat the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 12 innings. Detroit, riding high after taking three straight from Cleveland, shut out Kansas City 4-0 behind rookies Bud Black's six-hitter.

The Cubs' Ernie Banks, who recently set a record for shortstops with his 40th home run of the season, knocked off another major league record with his fifth grand slam homer of the year. Only 10 sluggers, including Babe Ruth, ever had been able to hit as many as four bases-loaded shots in one season before. Banks now has 44 home runs.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chicago's Ernie Banks is the new owner of the major league record for grand slam home runs in one season.

Banks' efforts was made in a losing cause Monday night as Rip Repulski homered in the 12th inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-5 victory.

Ernie said the pitch he hit off bonus rookie Lyndall McDaniell in the seventh for a grand slam "was a good, letter-high fast ball."

The 24-year-old shortstop from Dallas, Tex., couldn't be blamed if he secretly felt elated over the game. Only 10 other players in the game's history—one was Babe Ruth—had clubbed four grand slammers in a season. The homer was his 44th of the season.

Banks already held the major league mark for homers by a shortstop in a season. His 40th four-bagger broke the mark of 39 set by Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox in 1949.

Cubs Still Lose
McDaniell did a creditable job until Banks hit his homer. The base cleaner put the Cubs ahead until the eighth when Harry Elliott hit a three-run round tripper. It was Elliott's first homer of the season and tied the score, 5-5.

Repulski, Cardinal left fielder, won the game with his 23rd homer of the year. Reliever Mel Wright was the victor. Cub left-hander Paul Minner was removed after Elliott's homer and Jim Davis took the loss. The Cubs will send Sam Jones (13-19) against another Cardinal rookie, Ben Flowers, in tonight's game.

Sox at Cleveland
The White Sox, five games back of the league-leading Yankees and all but mathematically eliminated, play the second game Cleveland Indians in two-game series beginning tonight.

The series is much more important for the Indians who are only two games behind the leaders. Cleveland also has only five games remaining while the Yankees have seven to play.

Any combination of New York victories and Cleveland defeats totaling five will clinch the pennant for the Yankees.

The Indians will use either Early Wynn (16-11) or Herb Score (15-10). The Sox have named Billy Pierce (14-9).

Bums Have Best Infield

Hodges, Zimmer, Reese Top Best Yankees, Indians Have

(First of a Series)
By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Alston may have to sweat out a pitching problem or two before the start of the World Series next week. But when it comes to his infield, the Brooklyn manager has little to worry about.

Alston only is uncertain about third base where he has to choose between Jackie Robinson, the veteran and Don Hoak, the youngster. Robinson probably will get the nod.

Otherwise, the Dodgers' infield is a solid one. Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges, alone, appear to give the Brooks' inner defense the edge over the New York Yankees. And should Cleveland by some minor miracle qualify for baseball's big show, its infield doesn't figure to measure up to the Dodgers.

Reese, 36 years old, is batting .281. Hodges, the husky first base-

Hurricane Ione Washes Out Title Go

See 'Grand Weather for Wednesday

Weigh-in at Noon Today as Slated; Ione Won't Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The heavy weight championship fight between titleholder Rocky Marciano and challenger Archie Moore was postponed today because of hurricane Ione.

Weather permitting, the 15-round bout will be held Wednesday night in Yankee Stadium. If weather conditions still are unsuitable, it will be held Thursday.

The weigh-in will be held at noon today as scheduled.

Postponements are nothing new for Marciano. His second fight with Ezzard Charles was set back twice by rain last September. Then Rocky knocked out Charles in the eighth round.

Not Full Force
Under State Athletic Commission rules, no new weigh-in is required for a one-day postponement. After a 48-hour delay, however, the fighters must be weighed again even if they are heavyweights who have no weight limit to make.

The announcement of the postponement came in a terse statement from Jim Norris, president of the IBC.

He said the fight was postponed "for 24 hours."

Meanwhile, the New York meteorologist said the hurricane would hit the city only a glancing blow and there should be clearing weather by late afternoon.

Ernest J. Christie said the brunt of the storm would pass well east of the city, with some rain and high winds here but not the full force originally expected.

Harry Markson, managing director of the IBC, said, "The forecast for tomorrow is grand. Tonight's expectations were wavering and we felt we couldn't take a chance on waiting it out."

The postponement means that the bout Wednesday night will start 9:45 p. m. (CDT), 15 minutes later than originally scheduled.

The reason is that the IBC is committed to another television network fight in Miami between middleweights Bobby Dykes and George Johnson, starting at 9 p. m. (CDT).

The over-riding reason for the postponement, despite forecasts of clearing later this evening, was the matter of the gate.

Markson said the advance sale of tickets already approaches $670,000 but he expected $150,000 additional at the gate with good weather.

Norris said also that he felt it would be unfair to out-of-town fans not to make an early decision in view of the uncertain conditions.

He said, even in case of clearing, the stadium would be uncomfortable for spectators, with grounds muddy and seats wet.

UCLA Tops Football Poll

Georgia Tech Takes Second; Sooners Third

By The Associated Press

UCLA, the pre-season pick of the experts, held its place as the nation's No. 1 college football team today in the first regular-season Associated Press poll of the country's sports writers and sportscasters.

The Uclans, who opened their campaign with a clear-cut 21-0 victory over Texas A&M, had 34 of the 58 first-place votes. On the usual basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, and so forth, UCLA piled up 512 points, well ahead of second-place Georgia Tech, which skyrocketed from 10th place in the preseason voting. Tech had 364 points.

The Yellow Jackets defeated strongly rated Miami 14-6 in their debut.

Tech's meteoric climb shoved Oklahoma and Michigan down a notch to third and fourth, respectively, while Maryland retained its fifth spot despite a close call in its 13-12 victory over Missouri.

The leading teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. UCLA (51)	512
2. Georgia Tech (3)	364
3. Oklahoma (4)	319
4. Michigan (10)	284
5. Maryland (11)	284
6. Ohio State (17)	157
7. Pittsburgh (17)	142
8. Mississippi (17)	124
9. USC (17)	124
10. Navy (17)	124

THE SECOND 10
11. Notre Dame	115
12. Texas Tech	101
13. Rice	80
14. Army	62
15. Miami Fla.	51
16. LSU	47
17. Arkansas (1)	37
18. Baylor	37
19. Purdue (1)	20
20. Florida (1)	20

Other yearlings to win starting berths are: Dave Vance, Pales Park; Bob Coffey, Rockford; Dan Baker, North Chicago. Vance and Coffey will open at the tackles and Baker is slated for halfback duty.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Inability to conclude a trade for first baseman Mickey Vernon of Washington cost Cleveland the American league pennant, Hank Greenberg said today.

The Indians general manager estimated the Tribe probably would be several games in front instead of two behind the New York Yankees had the proposed deal gone through last June.

At the same time, Greenberg reaffirmed his complete faith in manager Al Lopez despite the club's recent fumble.

"I think Lopez did a much more outstanding job this season than when he led the club to a pennant and a record breaking 111 victories in 1954," Greenberg said.

The major handicap this season according to Greenberg was the team's inability to come up with a solid, everyday first baseman to fill in for the ailing Vic Wertz.

"I spent the better part of a week trying to persuade Clark Griffith (Washington owner) to trade Vernon. He was quite willing but he wanted a flock of our promising young ball players."

"We turned it down because we didn't feel it was a good gamble for a 35-year-old veteran who might help us only one year."

"Later, Griffith agreed to make the deal for only two of these men, Rocky Colavito and Joe Altabelli, but by that time Ferris Fain was available and we signed him."

Northwestern—Quarterback Jack Ellis, fullback Wayne Glassman and halfback Jim Troglia, who had been sidelined with injuries, have returned to the Wildcats.

Minnesota—Dave Burkholder, sophomore, appears to be a probable starter at right guard in the Gophers' opening game with the University of Washington Saturday.

Illinois—Fullback Dan Wile and tackle Dick Miller are expected to take part in scrimmages today. Both had been out with cleat wounds.

Will He or Won't He Be A Candidate?

CHICAGO (U)—The chairman of the Republican National Committee says he believes President Eisenhower will be a candidate for re-election but the Democratic national chairman predicts he will not run again.

Leonard W. Hall, the GOP chairman, and Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler expressed their views to newsmen in interviews Monday.

Hall Confident

Hall said he feels certain Eisenhower will be a candidate and announce his 1956 plans "well in advance" of the Republican National Convention in San Francisco in August.

"I'm organizing on the basis that he will run again," Hall said. "I think it will be the same ticket as in 1952, with Ike and Nixon. We're going to have the most popular candidate in history at our convention. We've got the issues and we've got the climate for victory—peace and prosperity."

Butler, told of Hall's remarks, said the GOP chairman was "whistling in the dark."

"I don't blame Mr. Hall," Butler said. "If I were in his shoes, I would feel the same way. But I don't believe Eisenhower will run. I don't believe he is happy as president. He doesn't appear to be enjoying the responsibility of the office. He's probably spending less time at the job than any president in the 20th century."

Butler also mentioned "family considerations," referring to his statement earlier this year that Mrs. Eisenhower was in poor health. Butler added that he "got hell" for that statement.

Hall was in Chicago for a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Convention Arrangements Committee.

"Parity Principle"

Butler attended a meeting of the Democratic Advisory Committee on Agriculture. The committee of farm leaders said that they "stand on the principles of price parity."

Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture under President Roosevelt who heads the committee, told reporters:

"Parity is the synonym for economic equality. Parity is our objective. We are going to seek out the very best information and ideas on how to achieve and keep it, and we won't neglect the consumer in the process."

Curb Credit; Boom Goes on

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—What effect have governmental credit restraints had on slowing the business boom?

Very little, so far. The most tangible result of the money managers' moves to tighten credit has been to cause an increase in interest rates — and hence an increase in the cost of doing business — and to make the banks scurry around to find new money to lend to their many would-be borrowers.

The mild restraints may take visible form in the months ahead. They are chiefly aimed at acting as a governor to prevent the business boom from running away.

Signs Are Few

But so far there are few signs of slowing down — and many signs of more industrial and trade activity the rest of this year.

Far from being deterred by higher interest rates, businessmen are planning to find some 7½ billion dollars to put into expansion of plants and buying of new equipment in the final months of this year.

Unimpressed by warnings that only easy credit terms could keep auto sales booming, the auto industry says it plans to turn out 1956 models at the same fast clip it set when it introduced the 1955's. Car dealers are being warned to prepare for even keener competition next year.

And the industry intends to go right on expanding.

The housing industry was thought by many to be a particular target of the credit-tightening program. And in July the starting of new homes faltered a little. But it snapped back in August and builders say the revival is lasting in September. August starts put the building pace eight per cent higher than a year ago and almost even with the 1950 record.

Tightening in mortgage money supply hasn't been felt much yet, say the bankers. Financing for new homes is still available. But the bankers believe that before much longer the money supply for new mortgages will get tight indeed.

Retail hopes, indeed, are running high for record Christmas trade in all lines, whether those for which people usually pay cash or those which they usually put on the cuff.

Orders Pour In

That manufacturers agree is shown by the orders pouring into the basic industries. Steel mills are operating only a little below capacity. Orders crowd their books for the rest of this year. Customers are asking about deliveries in the first months of 1956.

There is no sign yet of any let-down in steel demand.

The brakes may take hold later, but as of now business is still booming.

September Heat Wave Vanishes

By The Associated Press

The September heat wave which scorched the Midwest for a week appeared broken today with a flow of cool air from the north and showers.

The cool air spread southeastward across the Midwest and Great Lakes region. Temperatures, which hit the 90s again Monday in many cities, dropped to around normal levels.

Readings ranged from 48 at Duluth, Minn., and 52 at Lone Rock, Wis., to 64 at Des Moines and 69 at South Bend, Ind. Chicago's 67 compared to a daytime high of 93, a record for the date and the 46th day this year with temperatures of 90 or higher, also a record.

Normally cool weather prevailed in the Northern Plains and most of the Far West. Warmest parts of the country were the Southern Plains, the Gulf Coast and Florida, all reporting readings in the 70s, with highs of 82 at Dallas and 83 at Key West, Fla. Elsewhere temperatures were around normal.

Heavy rains were reported around the central part of Hurricane Ione, which moved up the Atlantic coast after striking coastal areas of North Carolina and Virginia. Rain fell northward into New England.

Light showers fell in parts of the Midwest and fairly heavy rainfall was reported in sections of the Northern Rockies and Western Plains.

Missionaries Emerge From Behind Bamboo Curtain

HONG KONG (U)—The first stage in the repatriation of 41 American civilians from Communist China neared completion today with the release of two American women missionaries after 4½ years' imprisonment.

The women were Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, a native of Tennessee, and Miss Dorothy Middleton, 34, of Cicero, Ill. Miss Perkins is a Presbyterian, Miss Middleton a Lutheran who worked at a leper colony.

Of the 10 Americans the Communists announced would be freed from jail or house arrest, only Dilmus T. Kanady, a cotton dealer from Houston, Tex., remained to come across.

12 Others "Free"

The Reds also have said that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China and that machinery had been set up to provide the "expedient" release of 19 others under detention. None of these has arrived yet in the free world.

Wearing summer dresses, both women appeared in good physical and mental condition although tired. Asked how she felt, Miss Perkins replied: "For a woman of 63, I think I look pretty well."

The women were arrested separately on sabotage charges at Samkong village, near Lianhsien, South China, in February, 1951. They were kept in separate rooms in the same buildings—in Samkong, then in Kikong and in a Canton prison—and finally met on Sept. 11 when they were called before a Red council in Canton. They were told then they would be deported.

Miss Perkins said the first time she was called up for questioning, the Communists "told me if I would tell on others, they would treat me lightly, but if not 'we may shoot you or treat you very cruelly.'"

"I replied," she continued, "You may shoot me tomorrow but I will still tell the truth."

"We are no spies, we are missionaries," she declared, tears welling in her eyes.

Miss Middleton said she had "signed some papers which I believe were confessions in 1952 or 1953." She said she wrote "some things from my point of view—that I was a Christian and that I was sorry if I had said anything contrary to their belief."

"I probably had done things contrary to their ideas," she continued, "but as a Christian, I would never go back on God." She declined to be more specific, saying she feared to bring down reprisals on Chinese friends.

Bullets Form Dollar Sign In Hood's Body

CHICAGO (U)—Six bullets found in the back of slain ex-convict Dominick Christiano were patterned into a dollar sign, a coroner's inquest was told Monday.

Harry Glos, investigator for the coroner's office, disclosed the unusual bullet pattern. He said the bullets were fired at close range.

Christiano was found Sunday critically wounded in the middle of U. S. Route 66, southwest of Chicago. He died later in a hospital without uttering a word about his assailants.

The Dixon Evening Telegraph

Monday's inquest was continued to Sept. 25 when Christiano's wife, Josephine, 27, and George Wilson, 32, refused to testify. Wilson, a partner of the victim in a restaurant, has been at odds over attentions paid to Mrs. Christiano, police said.

Mrs. Christiano was detained on the request of Decatur, Ill., authorities who said she is wanted for passing a worthless check.

Christiano, 27, had a long police record dating back to 1933.

Pretty Women, Millionaires Are Scrutinized by Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Side walk reflections of a pavement Plato: If there is anything harder for the average man to understand than beautiful women, it is millionaires.

Millionaires and pretty women have a great deal in common. They never quite act the way you expect them to. They rarely quite live up to the images of them you have in your mind before you get to know them well.

Women and millionaires (particularly new millionaires) brood a lot. Both are highly suspicious of any attention you pay them. Both want to be flattered not for what they have, but what they don't have: in the case of women, their brains; in the case of millionaires, their social charm.

Honestly Never Pays

Honestly never pays off in dealing with either. They yearn to be admired for some imaginary quality they think they have rather than the one they actually do possess. If you tell a woman she has prettier legs than Betty Grable, she says huffily, "Is that all you see in me?" If you tell a millionaire, "The thing about you I like is your bank balance," he gets downright insulted.

Poor Disappointed

A poor man is disappointed with both lovely women and millionaires, and for the same reason. Neither is as romantic as you expect them to be—or as spendthrift of their charms as you would like. They are cautiously determined to keep what they have intact, whether it be their beauty or their money.

Personally, I have found most millionaires boring, fearful fellows afraid to live up to their station in life. My theory is that a millionaire should act like a millionaire and live a rich carefree existence.

Now if I suddenly got a million bucks I'd live up to it. I'd drop all my shabby pals and start mingling with a better class of people. I'd have a big white butoon my lapel that said "I'm a millionaire." And when anybody bent over to read what it said on the button I'd squeeze a hidden bulb and squirt water in his eyes.

Champagne in Bed

I'd drink champagne in bed for breakfast, ride on horseback behind a pack of foxhounds down Broadway in the afternoon, and spend my evenings pouring bubbly water down the backs of chorus girls at gay parties.

You wouldn't have to ask where I was. You could follow me around town by the trail of $50 bills I'd let dribble out of a hole in my pocket.

I'd buy me an air-conditioned limousine of silver with diamonds for headlights, and I'd have as a uniformed chauffeur the tallest, sunniest, red-headed showgirl in all America.

My bodyguard would be the smallest, toughest, meanest retired jockey I could find. He would go about with me wearing his racing silks and boots, and carry a riding crop in one hand to beat the peasants out of my path and a shotgun in the other to cow anybody who wanted to make something of it.

You think people would hate or despise me? If you do, that's how little you know about people. They always admire a man with a grand manner, one who smokes kings but flips 20-buck goldpieces in a passing beggar's hat.

Old-Fashioned Idea

That's the old-fashioned idea about millionaires. And the secret dream of most people today isn't merely to be a millionaire—but to live like they dream a millionaire should: High, wide and handsome.

I might die broke and be buried in a pauper's grave, but the man in the street would pay me this unobscuring tribute:

"The guy was a bum at heart, but at least when he had a million he didn't try to keep it a secret between him and the tax collector."

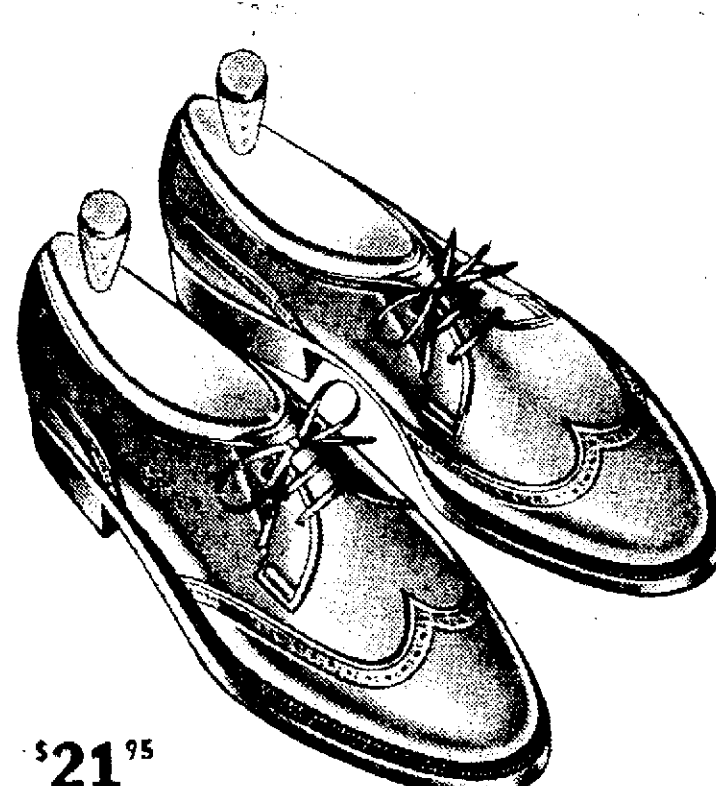

The trouble with most modern millionaires is simply this—they look and act too much like the rest of us pale prisoners of the weekly paycheck.

Tomorrow: How to get along with a millionaire.

All Prepared

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The New England Telephone Co. was well prepared for Hurricane Ione. It announced that not only were the usual measures taken to protect stock and keep service going but the cafeteria refrigerator at the main office "is full of hamburger."

He strengthened his hardy variety of corn with anhydrous ammonia and 12-12-12 fertilizer.

Rep. Arends Sees Ike a Candidate

DES MOINES (AP)—Rep. Leslie C. Arends (R-Ill.) predicts President Eisenhower "will serve as long as his country needs him to serve."

Arends, Republican whip in the House, emphasized he had no personal knowledge of the President's intentions concerning a second term.

Arends made his remarks Monday night in an address prepared for a regional conference of the National Federation of Republican Women.

"As well as I know him," the Illinois congressman said, "I do not know what specific plans he may have. I will say, whatever his personal desires or preferences, he will serve as long as his country needs him to serve."

Pretty Women, Millionaires Are Scrutinized by Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Side walk reflections of a pavement Plato: If there is anything harder for the average man to understand than beautiful women, it is millionaires.

Millionaires and pretty women have a great deal in common. They never quite act the way you expect them to. They rarely quite live up to the images of them you have in your mind before you get to know them well.

Women and millionaires (particularly new millionaires) brood a lot. Both are highly suspicious of any attention you pay them. Both want to be flattered not for what they have, but what they don't have; in the case of women, their brains; in the case of millionaires, their social charm.

Honestly Never Pays
Honestly never pays off in dealing with either. They yearn to be admired for some imaginary quality they think they have rather than the one they actually do possess. If you tell a woman she has prettier legs than Betty Grable, she says huffily, "Is that all you see in me?" If you tell a millionaire, "The thing about you I like is your bank balance," he gets downright insulted.

Poor Disappointed
A poor man is disappointed with both lovely women and millionaires, and for the same reason. Neither is as romantic as you expect them to be—or as spendthrift of their charms as you would like. They are capriciously determined to keep what they have intact, whether it be their beauty or their money.

Personally, I have found most millionaires boring, fearful fellows afraid to live up to their station in life. My theory is that a millionaire should act like a millionaire and live a rich carefree existence.

Now if I suddenly got a million bucks I'd live up to it. I'd drop all my shoddy pals and start mingling with a better class of people. I'd have a big white but- ton my lapel that said "I'm a millionaire." And when anybody bent over to read what it said on the button I'd squeeze a hidden bulb and squirt water in his eyes.

Champagne In Bed
I'd drink champagne in bed for breakfast, ride on horseback behind a pack of foxhounds down Broadway in the afternoon, and spend my evenings pouring bubbly water down the backs of chorus girls at gay parties.

You wouldn't have to ask where I was. You could follow me around town by the trail of $50 bills I'd let dribble out of a hole in my pocket.

I'd buy me an air-conditioned limousine of silver with diamonds for headlights, and I'd have as a uniformed chauffeur the tallest, sunniest, red-headed showgirl in all America.

My bodyguard would be the smallest, toughest, meanest retired jockey I could find. He would go about with me wearing his racing silks and boots, and carry a riding crop in one hand to beat the peasants out of my path and a shotgun in the other to cow anybody who wanted to make something of it.

You think people would hate or despise me? If you do, that's how little you know about people. They always admire a man with a grand manner, one who smokes kings but flips 20-buck goldpieces in a passing beggar's hat.

Old-Fashioned Idea
That's the old-fashioned idea about millionaires. And the secret dream of most people today isn't merely to be a millionaire—but to live like they dream a millionaire should: High, wide and handsome. I might die broke and be buried in a pauper's grave, but the man in the street would pay me this unthinking tribute:

"The guy was a bum at heart,"

Speeder Leaves Jail; Gives Her Opinion of Law

CHICAGO (AP)—A 51-year-old grandmother who went to jail rather than pay a $21 speeding fine, says she is going to make "as much trouble as I can" for two suburban law enforcement men.

Mrs. Elsie Hicks told newsmen from her cell Monday that she wanted the state's attorney to find out what Orland Park authorities do with speeding fines.

"The money doesn't go to schools or churches or for other charitable purposes," Mrs. Hicks charged. "It means that the more money that comes in, the more the justice of the peace and police chief get."

Mrs. Hicks, a business agent for Local 73 of the AFL Building Service Employees Union, was arrested by Orland Park Police Chief Herbert Lucas for driving 61 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. Her sentence was fixed by Justice of the Peace George A. Flondor, on her plea of guilty Sept. 7.

Her nine-day sentence expires Friday.

All Prepared

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The New England Telephone Co. was well prepared for Hurricane Irene. It announced that not only were the usual measures taken to protect stock and keep service going but the cafeteria refrigerator at the main office "is full of hamburger."

Green leaves on the outside of head lettuce contain more vitamins than the inner, lighter leaves.

CORN AND DRY EARTH—Despite drought Glen Hardy harvested big ears of corn which are the envy of his neighbors in Grant City, Mo. Though he's had only one-half inch of moisture since July 1—and that crack in the ground is proof—Hardy is expecting a yield of 50 bushels per acre. He strengthened his hardy variety of corn with anhydrous ammonia and 12-12-12 fertilizer.

Rep. Arends Sees Ike a Candidate

DES MOINES (AP)—Rep. Leslie C. Arends (R-Ill.) predicts President Eisenhower "will serve as long as his country needs him to serve."

Arends, Republican whip in the House, emphasized he had no personal knowledge of the President's intentions concerning a second term.

Arends made his remarks Monday night in an address prepared for a regional conference of the National Federation of Republican Women.

"As well as I know him," the Illinois congressman said, "I do not know what specific plans he may have. I will say, whatever his personal desires or preferences, he will serve as long as his country needs him to serve."

PUBLIC NOTICE is also hereby given that as such County Collector, pursuant to such Court Order as issued to sell said lands and lots, I shall expose to public sale at the Court House in Dixon, Illinois, in said County of Lee, severally and all such lands and lots to which such Court Order shall apply for the amount of said taxes plus interest and costs due thereon, on Monday, October 17th, 1955, at the hour of 9 o'clock A.M.

Lightfoot Appeals His Conviction

CHICAGO (AP) — Attorneys for convicted Illinois Communist leader Claude Lightfoot have asked a reversal of his conviction on grounds that Lightfoot's constitutional rights were violated.

In a brief filed in U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Monday, Lightfoot's lawyers argued that the Smith Act provision under which he was convicted "violates the First and Fifth Amendments because it implies guilt solely by reason of association."

Lightfoot, 44, Negro, was convicted Feb. 15. He was the first person found guilty under the Smith Act. The act outlaws membership in an organization while knowing that it advocates violent overthrow of the government. Lightfoot was found guilty of knowingly belonging to such a group and fined $5,000 and sentenced to five years in prison.

Oral arguments on Lightfoot's appeal are expected to be heard this fall.

Political Campaign Boils 13 Months Before Voting

1956 Presidential Drive To Be Longest on Record

Editor's Note—This is the first of a series on what is taking place along the national political front where both Republican and Democratic national headquarters already have plunged deep into the fight for control of the White House and Congress in the 1956 elections.

Not in recent political history has there been such an early surge of activity along the national political front. One party worker commented:

"A short presidential campaign in 1956? Don't you believe it. The campaign already is under way as far as we're concerned. This is going to be one of the longest campaigns we've ever had."

Early Maneuvering

The business of choosing a candidate and waging a barnstorming campaign is months away—but the struggle between the parties already has the politicians maneuvering their troops in the field.

L. Richard Guyley, publicity chief for the Republican National Committee, and Sam Brightman, who occupies a similar post in the Democratic national headquarters, are men who disagree on many things. But they agree on this point: The fight between the parties is developing far faster than it did in the last presidential election.

Four years ago, the early political skirmish was pretty much confined to candidates jousting among themselves for their party's nomination—and these contests didn't develop to any great degree until the late winter and early spring of 1952. Once the candidates were nominated—Dwight Eisenhower by the Republicans and Adlai Stevenson by the Democrats—then the parties turned their guns full force against each other.

Push Organization

But now both parties are starting early to establish issues, and their national headquarters are pushing programs to organize precinct workers who will get out the vote.

The Democrats are stepping up their attacks on Eisenhower and his administration, bearing down on such issues as farm prices, public-versus-private power, and what the Democrats say is Republican favoritism toward big business.

The Republicans already have held a "political school" for the 48 GOP state chairmen, discussing issues and techniques for getting out the vote in the '56 election. These state chairmen are arranging similar meetings in their home states for county leaders, and these meetings will be carried on down to the precinct level.

It Really Was Monkey Business

CINCINNATI (AP) — George Kersting thought his six children were strictly up to monkey business Monday when one of them yelled, "There's a monkey in the back yard."

But sure enough, there was a monkey rapidly making friends with the youngsters. They fed him some bread and a banana.

Later the visitor took to the trees and disappeared in a wooded area in the neighborhood.

The cornerstone of the famous Bunker Hill monument on Breed's Hill was laid by Marquis de Lafayette, June 17, 1795.
